To the Board of Trustees of
Harvesters International Ministries, Inc.
Hilton Head Island, South Carolina

We have reviewed the accompanying financial statements of Harvesters International Ministries, Inc. (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statement of financial position as of December 31, 2016, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements. A review includes primarily applying analytical procedures to management's financial data and making inquiries of management. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error.

Accountant's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to conduct the review engagement in accordance with Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services promulgated by the Accounting and Review Services Committee of the AICPA. Those standards require us to perform procedures to obtain limited assurance as a basis for reporting whether we are aware of any material modifications that should be made to the financial statements for them to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We believe that the results of our procedures provide a reasonable basis for our conclusion.

Accountant's Conclusion

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis of accounting

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Account receivable

Accounts receivables are recorded net of an allowance for uncollectible accounts. The Ministry believes that all accounts receivable are collectible and that no allowance for doubtful accounts is required as of December 31, 2016.

Harvesters International Ministries, Inc.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2016

Note 1 – Nature of activities and significant accounting policies (continued)Reporting entity

The Ministry is governed by a board of directors which currently consists of ten directors. The Ministry has financial accountability and control over the activities related to the organization's purposes. The Ministry and its directors are independent of any other organization.

Support and revenue (contributions)

The Ministry receives funding from churches, foundations, and individuals throughout the United States. All contributions are considered to be available for unrestricted use unless specifically restricted by the donor. Amounts received that are designated for future periods or restricted for specific purposes are reported as temporarily restricted or permanently restricted support that increases those net asset classes. When a temporary restriction expires, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Functional allocation of expenses

The costs of providing the various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the financial statement of activities. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited.

Management's review of subsequent events

Management has evaluated subsequent events through July 31, 2017, the date on which the financial statements were available to be issued.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2016

Note 1 – Nature of activities and significant accounting policies (continued)Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Property and equipment

The Ministry capitalizes property and equipment used in the administration of the ministry. Purchased property and equipment are capitalized at cost. As of the date of these financial statements, the Ministry has not recognized as an asset any property or equipment received as a donation. Property and equipment are depreciated using an accelerated method.

Income taxes

The Ministry is formally established as Harvesters International Ministries, Inc. and is recognized by the Internal Revenue Service as an IRC Section 501(c) (3) tax exempt organization. Therefore, the Ministry has made no provision for federal income taxes in the accompanying financial statements. In addition, there was no unrelated business income for the year ended December 31, 2016.

Cash and cash equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Ministry considers all highly liquid investments available for current use with an initial maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The Ministry maintains its cash in bank deposits accounts that occasionally exceed the Federal Depository Insurance Corporation (FDIC) limits of $250,000. As of December 31, 2016, all Ministry were within FDIC limits.

Notes to Financial Statements

Note 2 – Designated contributions received

Contributions received are generally designated for a specific ministry purpose within Harvesters International. Such funding is generally expended soon after the receipt of the funding on the designated ministry purpose. Designated contributions include amounts received for 100% of the amounts paid as salaries of the Directors and the other personnel, including those involved in fund-raising. In addition, all travel costs of teams from the United States involved in short-term ministry in Africa and Asia are paid from contributions designated for such teams.

Note 3 – Construction projects

In addition to other outreach efforts, the Ministry contributes to various construction projects within African and Asian communities that it sponsors. During 2016, these projects included:

- Primary school construction in Kenya
- Installation 23 wells in Kenya
- Purchase of land in Myanmar for the construction of a Bible College campus

As the construction projects are owned by the local African and Asian communities, the Ministry does not have any ownership interest in the projects. Therefore, the costs are not included in program services expenses.

Note 4 – Fundraising services

The Ministry does not use the services of any professional fundraising organization. Periodically, the organization board members, its staff, and friends of the Ministry present the needs of the Ministry to its supporters. However, no salaries are allocated to the fundraising category. The expenses related to fundraising in the accompanying financial statements include the expenses for printed materials, including newsletters and the related costs of postage, and the expenses of donor relations.
